

Job Title: Junior Production Manager

Company: Niche Productions

Location: Lewisham, London (Hybrid: onsite, office, and remote working)

Salary: Competitive / Dependent on Experience

Contract: Full-time, permanent

Overview

Niche Productions is a specialist production management company delivering immersive and experiential projects across the UK and internationally. Our work spans large-scale theatre productions, site-specific installations, and live experiences for high-profile companies such as Punchdrunk, Darkfield, Immersive Everywhere, Backyard Cinema, and Speakeasy Project, working on projects such as Viola's Room and recently announced The Traitors Live Experience plus more large-scale IP-based experiences soon to be announced.

As we continue to grow, we're looking for a Junior Production Manager to join our team. This role is ideal for someone ready to take the next step in their production career, with the opportunity to lead on smaller projects while supporting senior team members on larger productions.

As Junior Production Manager, you will be an integral part of our production team, assisting in the planning and execution of projects. You'll take the lead on smaller productions while providing key support on larger, more complex shows.

This is a full-time position with a mix of onsite, office-based, and remote work, and will also require travel within the UK and internationally.

Some projects may involve extended periods of working away from home.

Key Responsibilities

- Lead production management on smaller projects, ensuring smooth delivery.
- Support senior production managers on larger, more complex productions.
- Assist in budgeting, scheduling, and logistics planning.
- Collaborate with suppliers, venues, and freelance teams to ensure all production elements are delivered on time and to a high standard.
- Oversee technical aspects of installations, including set, lighting, sound, and AV.
- Assist with health & safety planning, including risk assessments and RAMS.
- Coordinate transport and logistics for UK and international projects.
- Provide hands-on support during onsite builds, tech periods, and live runs.

Who We're Looking For

This role is perfect for a highly organised, proactive individual looking to develop their career in production management. You should have some experience in theatre, live events, or immersive production, with a solid technical understanding and a willingness to learn.

Essential Skills & Experience:

- Previous experience in production, technical theatre, or live events.
- Strong understanding of technical elements, including staging, lighting, sound, and AV.
- Ability to work independently and as part of a team.
- Creative thinker with strong problem-solving skills.
- Excellent communication skills.
- Willingness to learn and adapt to new challenges.
- Extremely organised with the ability to multitask and manage multiple projects simultaneously.
- Good troubleshooting abilities and the capacity to remain calm under pressure.

Desirable Skills & Experience:

- Basic knowledge of Vectorworks Spotlight (training will be provided if needed).
- Experience working in immersive, site-specific, or unconventional venues.
- Health & safety training (e.g., IOSH, NEBOSH).
- Previous experience working with freight and logistics for touring productions.
- A full UK driving licence (or willingness to obtain one).

Career Development

We're committed to career progression and will provide opportunities for the right candidate to develop their skills, working towards a Production Manager role, with further progression to Senior Production Manager as experience grows.

Benefits

- Competitive salary (dependent on experience).
- 28 days holiday (including bank holidays).
- Opportunities for training and development.
- Hybrid working (Lewisham office, onsite, and remote work).
- Travel opportunities with exciting projects across the UK and internationally.

If you're looking to take the next step in your production career and work on cutting-edge immersive and experiential projects, we'd love to hear from you!

Niche Productions is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive workplace. We welcome applications from all backgrounds.